Download Movies Amazon Mac

Amazon makes a point of noting in its press release that this move gives it one up on competitive services like Netflix: “Amazon Video is the only online subscription streaming video service that enables downloads of titles, meaning unlike other subscription streaming services such as Netflix, Prime members can enjoy movies and TV shows as part of their membership even when they don’t have an internet connection available.. Installing the Amazon Video App As you’ll read shortly, while actually downloading the content you want to your device is a pretty simple task, in classic Amazon style, the process of actually getting the Prime app to work on your device is a whole separate trial altogether.. What’s a traveler to do? Well, fear not fellow road warrior, because unlike Netflix or Hulu, Amazon Prime is a video service that will actually allow you to download their streaming content locally to your device’s hard drive.. For iOS users the process is thankfully straightforward, only a matter of finding the Amazon Video app in the app store, downloading/installing it, and logging in to a Prime-active account.. You can access the new download feature for offline viewing through the now We’ve all been there before: you’ve got a long road trip coming up, a tablet or mobile device that you love to watch movies on, and the prospect of long gaps between reliable Wi-Fi service.. ” The feature is available to Prime subscribers at no extra charge and is initially available for users in the US, UK, Germany and Austria.

Users will be able to download both TVs and movies (Amazon didn’t mention if there are any restrictions), and the feature is available through the Amazon Video app available for both iPhone and iPads.. In case your trip involves any points where you predict you might lose cellular service or fall out of range of a wireless router, this is a feature which can prove especially useful for keeping family members entertained in the car, or adding a little extra entertainment to your next 18-hour flight from Hong Kong.
