ORTSO: Not just a smartwatch or a fitness tracker, but both with a luxury design

by Shomaila Issam

Whether it's a fitness band that promises the most accurate biometric readings or a smart watch that claims it will make reading notifications easier, you can't go wrong with opting for a wearable to make life much easier. However, it's highly unlikely that you will wear both, at least at the same time and chances are that both won't have the classic luxury look that makes a watch suitable for a formal occasion or work. This is where ORSTO watches come in with their
